Gigi Gryce (con) on b; Milton Hayes (v) on d.

At the time of this session, Gigi Gryce was a student at Boston Conservatory. Boston-based vocalist Margie Anderson confirmed in an interview that Gryce was present in the studio to oversee the performance of his composition. The personnel are unconfirmed. Hayes sings on track d and is presumed to be the drummer. He and pianist Anderson were musicians in the Newark, NJ area during this period.

All titles unissued.

a, b performed as medley

These are recordings of jam sessions, some tracks of which were to be issued on the Zim label. The tapes are in the possession of Art Zimmerman. The mc is Eddie Curran. The personnel are incomplete and collective, presumably over several dates. Another unidentified trumpet player and a tenor saxophonist (Wilber?) are heard on some tracks. Tracks a and b are not really a medley but rather a merging of the two melody lines. Many titles are incomplete and the sound quality varies. Timings shown include announcements and applause.

In addition to the tracks listed, Zimmerman's records indicate the presence of another version of "Perdido," two tracks whose titles are unknown, one track labeled as "Ad Lib" and two untitled piano solos performed by Gryce. None of these have been auditioned by the authors.

Solos:

a/b - Jordan, Wilber, trumpet (?), Gryce, Pettiford (cello), Jordan, Roland

c - Roland

d - Pettiford (cello - audio problems), Jordan (?), bass (probably Pettiford - drop out during solo), Gryce (track ends during his solo)

e - Pettiford (cello), McGhee, Jordan, Pettiford (cello)

f - McGhee (track starts during his solo), Pierce (?), Gryce, trumpet (?)

g - Gryce, McGhee, Pierce (?), bass (probably Pettiford), Gryce/McGhee four-bar exchanges

h - trumpet (?), Pierce (?), McGhee

i - McGhee
j - Pettiford (bass)
k - McGhee, tenor saxophone (track ends during solo)
l - Pettiford (bass)
m - McGhee, Gryce, track ends chaotically n - Pettiford (bass), McGhee, Pierce (?)
o - Pettiford (bass)
p - Pierce (?)
r - McGhee, Gryce, Wilber, trumpet (?)
s - Pettiford (bass)

All titles on: RLR (Sp.) CD: 88651 — Clifford Brown: The Lost Rehearsals 1953-1956 (2009)

According to the liner notes of the CD, these recordings were made by Clifford Brown and are described as rehearsals of what appears to be part of the Tadd Dameron band of the time. The notes do not reveal the source of either the recordings or the information about them. The tracks are mostly fragments and sound more like a jam session than a formal rehearsal. The personnel, location and date are assumptions based on the recordings of the Dameron band made for the Prestige label on June 11, 1953. Aural evidence confirms the presence of Brown, Gryce and Golson. The sound quality is very poor and tracks d and e have a different ambience than the others suggesting that all the titles were not recorded at the same time. Track e is listed as "Bula-Beige Blues."

Clifford Brown discographer Bob Weir incorrectly lists the studio as Van Gelder. Doug Hawkins is listed as the engineer and he is known to have worked at WOR.

On June 22, 1953, trombonist J.J. Johnson recorded two takes of Gryce's composition "Capri" for Blue Note Records (Jay Jay Johnson, BLP 5028; The Eminent Jay Jay Johnson, Vols. 1 & 2, BLP 1505, 1506). The ensemble was a sextet with Clifford Brown (t), Jimmy Heath (ts, bar), John Lewis (p), Percy Heath (b) and Kenny Clarke (d). It is possible Gryce was present in the studio to direct the recording of his tune but there is no suggestion of this in the original LP liner notes or other sources.

The studio could be Europa Film Studios, Sundbyerg, Stockholm where Clifford Brown discographer Bob Weir places the Clifford Brown/Art Farmer recording of the following day. Two other tracks were recorded on this date (probably the same session) under the leadership of pianist George Wallington, "Bluebird" (mst. no. 518) and "Round Midnight" (mst. no. 519), but Gigi Gryce does not participate in those.

Solos:
a - Clifford Brown (t)
b - Clifford Brown (t) c - Henri Renaud (p) 8-bar intro; Gigi Gryce (as) 96 bars (3 choruses)
d - Henri Renaud (p) 32 bars (1 chorus); Clifford Brown (t) 64 bars (2 choruses) 8- and 4-bar exchanges with Farmer; Jimmy Cleveland (tb) 32 bars (1 chorus); Anthony

Ortega (as) 32 bars (1 chorus) call and response with ensemble; Clifford Solomon (ts) 16 bars (0.5 chorus)
e - Henri Renaud (p) 32 bars (1 chorus); Clifford Brown (t) 64 bars (2 choruses) 8- and 4-bar exchanges with Farmer; Jimmy Cleveland (tb) 32 bars (1 chorus); Anthony Ortega (as) 32 bars (1 chorus) call and response with ensemble; Clifford Solomon (ts) 16 bars (0.5 chorus)

The location comes from Bob Weir's Clifford Brown discography, which has Fred Gérard listed for "Keepin' Up With Jonesy." Three takes of "Strike Up the Band" were recorded at this session (53V4657-1, 2, 3) but Gigi Gryce was not part of that ensemble.

"No Start No End" is a rehearsal for "(Venez Donc) Chez Moi." Many issues of this selection use only an excerpt rather than the complete nearly 8 minute take. Pierre Michelot is sometimes listed as bassist on this session but it is believed that this is erroneous. Two takes of "Serenade To Sonny" composed by Anthony Ortega were recorded at this session but Gryce is not present on those.

Henri Renaud confirms that Gryce was present in the studio for this session. It is also likely, but not certain that Gryce wrote the arrangements. "Stupendous-Lee" was issued as "Au Tabou." "Shabozz" was issued as "Schabooz" or "Schabozz." "Eleanor" was issued as "Eleanore."

All titles unissued.

The date is definitely earlier than November 24, 25 or 26, 1953 which is as listed in Weir's Clifford Brown discography. The Hampton band departed from Paris on November 24, 1953 for New York (via London and Glasgow). Unknown French musicians from Algiers also participated in this session. This tape is lost and the report is based on an anecdotal report from an eyewitness.

Gryce overdubbed saxophone parts onto the existing rhythm tracks. These four tracks were also issued without the overdubbed alto saxophone, as a play-along, on Signal S 101 and Savoy MG 12145. Track c is called "Jordu." The alternative titles shown have also been used for this melody line. Track d is called "Oh Yeah!". The same blues line was later recorded by its composer, Duke Jordan, using the title "Yes I Will."

Solos:
 a - Gigi Gryce (as) 16 bars; Jimmy Raney (g) 16 bars; Mal Waldron (p) 16 bars at faster tempo; Teddy Charles (vib) 44 bars at faster tempo; Gigi Gryce (as) 4 bars at faster tempo; J.R. Monterose (ts) 18 bars at faster tempo b - Gigi Gryce (as) 32 bars (1 chorus); J.R. Monterose (ts) 32 bars (1 chorus); Sol Schlinger (bar) 32 bars (1 chorus); Jimmy Raney (g) 32 bars (1 chorus); Mal Waldron (p) 32 bars (1 chorus); Teddy Charles (vib) 64 bars (2 choruses); Art Farmer (t) 64 bars (2 choruses)
 c - Teddy Charles (vib); Jimmy Raney (g); J.R. Monterose (ts)

Art Farmer was listed on the original LP issue (Atlantic 1229) as "Peter Urban." The improvisations on track b are based on the chord sequence of "Sweet Georgia Brown." The drum solos on track a are mostly written out in Waldron's score. Track d has not been auditioned.

The pianist is listed as "Harry Jones" but is most likely Hank Jones. This session was produced by Hugo Winterhalter and contracted by Millard Thomas. RCA SPD-24 is a box of 10 EPs. The recording date, location and personnel listed on the Blue Moon CD are incorrect. Part 1 features a baritone saxophone solo (probably NOT Gryce); part 2, a trombone solo (probably Cleveland).

Jerome Richardson (f) on d; Oscar Pettiford (vc) on a; Janet Putnam (hrp) on c-d.

Solos:
a - Oscar Pettiford (vc) 24 bars (2 choruses) overdubbed; Jimmy Cleveland (tb) 36 bars (3 choruses); Jerome Richardson (ts) 24 bars (2 choruses); Art Farmer (t) 24 bars (2 choruses); Tommy Flanagan (p) 24 bars (2 choruses)
b - Osie Johnson (d) 4 bars; Julius Watkins (frh) 32 bars (1 chorus) with ensemble interjections; David Amram (frh) 32 bars (1 chorus) with ensemble interjections

c - Oscar Pettiford (b) 8-bar intro; Ernie Royal (t) 2-bar break + 32 bars (1 chorus); Lucky Thompson (ts) 16 bars (0.5 chorus) starting at bridge; Osie Johnson (d) 4 bars
d - Oscar Pettiford (b); Janet Putnam (hrp)

Liner notes indicate that Thompson is the tenor saxophone soloist on track a but it sounds much more like Jerome Richardson to this discographer.

On June 25, 1956, trombonist Jimmy Cleveland recorded Gryce's composition "Wolf Talk" with a quintet made up of Hank Jones (p), Barry Galbraith (g), Milt Hinton (b) and Osie Johnson (d) (Various Artists, Rhythm Plus One, Epic LN 3297). It is possible Gryce was present in the studio to direct the recording of his tune but there is no documentation of this.

In late 1956 and early 1957, Art Blakey recorded several of Gryce's compositions with a quintet made up of Bill Hardman (t), Jackie McLean (as), Sam Dockery (p) and Spanky DeBrest (b) as follows:

December 13, 1956, "Nica's Tempo," Drum Suite, CL 1002

February 11, 1957, "Exhibit A," Art Blakey with the Jazz Messengers & Elmo Hope Quintet, Pacific Jazz PJ33

February 11, 1957, "Wake Up," Ritual, Pacific Jazz PJ15

March 8-9, 1957, "Casino," A Midnight Session, Elektra EKL120

April 1957, "Transfiguration" & "Exhibit A," Tough!, Cadet LP4049

It is possible Gryce was present in the studio to direct the recordings of his tunes, but there is no suggestion of this in the original LP liner notes or other sources.

Producer Orrin Keepnews says: "Note that, since virtually all Riverside sessions were held to produce long-play albums, no master numbers were ever assigned to individual selections."

On March 3, 1957, tenor saxophonists Clifford Jordan and John Gilmore recorded Gryce's composition "Blue Lights" backed by Horace Silver (p), Curly Russell (b) and Art Blakey (d) (Cliff Jordan/John Gilmore, Blowing in from Chicago, Blue Note BLP 1549). It is possible Gryce was present in the studio to direct the recording of his tune but there is no documentation of this.

On March 12, 1957, tenor saxophonist Coleman Hawkins recorded Gryce's composition "Blue Lights" with a septet including Idrees Sulieman (t), J.J. Johnson (tb), Hank Jones (p), Barry Galbraith (g), Oscar Pettiford (b) and Jo Jones (d) (Coleman Hawkins, The Hawk Flies High, Riverside RLP 12-233). It is possible Gryce was present in the studio to direct the recording of his tune but there is no documentation of this.

Although Jepsen's discography indicates January 13, 1957 for CO56457 and CO56458, other discographies (Bruyninckx, Lord, Raben) indicate that these tracks were recorded on March 13, 1957. The Columbia matrix numbers actually suggest a date in early July 1956 which seems unlikely since Donald Byrd and Gigi Gryce had not teamed up at that point to form the Jazz Lab ensemble. Thanks to George Avakian, we have now confirmed that these two nonet titles were, in fact, recorded on March 13, 1957 along with the quintet version of "Blue Concept." The matrix numbers CO56457 and CO56458 were originally intended for a Horace Silver recording of July 2, 1956 but were never used for that session and finally assigned out of sequence, at the March 13 Jazz Lab recording.

The Lord and Bruyninckx discographies indicate that the trombonist is Benny Powell but the liner notes to Columbia CL 998 indicate Jimmy Cleveland.

Definitive information concerning the Oscar Pettiford Orchestra live radio broadcasts shown below (sessions of May 18, 1957, May 26, 1957, between March and June 1957, May 1957 and probably May 1957) is lacking. Personnel comes from announcements, oral evidence in some cases and Coover Gazdar's Oscar Pettiford discography. Still, many of the personnel are unidentified. The following is a compilation of artists either known or suggested to have performed or recorded with the Pettiford orchestra in 1956-1957:

Trumpet: Donald Byrd, Ray Copeland, Kenny Dorham, Art Farmer, Ernie Royal, Idrees Sulieman

Trombone: Eddie Bert, Jimmy Cleveland, Al Grey

French horn: David Amram, Jim Buffington, Ed London, Julius Watkins

Alto Saxophone: Gigi Gryce, Gene Quill

Tenor Saxophone: Benny Golson, J.R. Monterose, Jerome Richardson (flute also), Lucky Thompson

Baritone Saxophone: Danny Bank, David Kurtzer, Sahib Shihab

Piano: Hank Jones, Tommy Flanagan, Dick Katz

Second Bass: Paul Chambers, Wendell Marshall, Earl May, Whitey Mitchell, Carl Pruitt

Harp: Betty Glamann, Janet Putnam

Drums: Gus Johnson, Osie Johnson, Shadow Wilson

Specifics regarding dates and personnel are also lacking, but it appears from booking documentation that all of the tracks were most likely broadcast between March and June of 1957. Gazdar's discography was somewhat helpful but precise dates remain elusive.

- h. The Gentle Art of Love (Oscar Pettiford) / arr: Lucky Thompson - 0:51

All titles on: Spotlite (Eng.) LP 12": SPJ 153 — Jazz Off the Air, Vol. 6 (1982)
Uptown CD: UPCD 27.86/27.87 — Oscar Pettiford: Nonet, Big Band, Sextet 1955-1958 - New York City (2017)

Oscar Pettiford (b) on a-c, e-h; unknown (b) on d.

Solos:

b - Dick Katz (p) 44 bars (1 chorus); Donald Byrd (t) 24 bars; Gigi Gryce (as) 20 bars starting from bridge

c - Betty Glamann (hrp)

d - Oscar Pettiford (vc) 8 bars bridge; Oscar Pettiford (vc) 64 bars (2 choruses); Oscar Pettiford (vc) 8 bars last chorus bridge

e - David Amram (frh) exchanges with London; Ed London (frh) exchanges with Amram

f - Ray Copeland (t) 16 bars; Ray Copeland (t) 16 bars; Gigi Gryce (as) 8 bars; Dick Katz (p) 8 bars; Ray Copeland (t) 16 bars

g - Betty Glamann (hrp) rubato intro; Gigi Gryce (as) 60 bars; Shadow Wilson (d) 16 bars; Donald Byrd (t) 32 bars; J.R. Monterose (ts) 16 bars; unknown (tb) 16 bars; Shadow Wilson (d) 32 bars Timings shown include announcements and applause. The track called "Seventh Heaven" has no relation to "Minor Seventh Heaven" (see session of August 12, 1955 above). Its composer and arranger are unknown. Coover Gazdar's Oscar Pettiford discography divides this material between two dates. On "Perdido," the bassist behind Pettiford's cello solo is probably Whitey Mitchell. The unknown trombonist may be Al Grey and the unknown baritone saxophonist, Sahib Shihab.

While unconfirmed, it is likely that Gryce was present in the studio to direct his arrangements. Some sources indicate that "But Beautiful" was recorded on May 21, 1957 but this seems unlikely.

Producer Orrin Keepnews says: "Note that, since virtually all Riverside sessions were held to produce long-play albums, no master numbers were ever assigned to individual selections." This was a troubled session and Monk was unable to continue after the three attempts at "Crepuscule With Nellie." He does not perform on "Blues For Tomorrow." The session continued the next day with much greater productivity.

Producer Orrin Keepnews says: "Note that, since virtually all Riverside sessions were held to produce long-play albums, no master numbers were ever assigned to individual selections." The alternate take of "Epistrophe" on Riverside 15RCD-022-2 fades out during the beginning of Copeland's solo and is shortened to 1:47. The complete take is found on Riverside RCD2-30027-2. "Abide With Me" is performed only by the horns.

a, b performed as medley

Jackie Paris (bj) on a-b.

Solos:
a - Wynton Kelly (p) 8-bar intro in 3/4; Jackie Paris (v) 128 bars (2 choruses in 3/4) wordless vocal b - Arthur Taylor (d) 8 bars keeping time with brushes; Jackie Paris (v) 8 bar intro wordless vocal; Jackie Paris (v) 24 bars (2 choruses) wordless vocal c - Gigi Gryce (as) 6 bars of first chorus head; Donald Byrd (t) 6 bars of second chorus head; Gigi Gryce (as) 60 bars (5 choruses); Wynton Kelly (p) 48 bars (4 choruses); Jackie Paris (v) 48 bars (4 choruses) scat vocal; Donald Byrd (t) 48 bars (4 choruses); Wendell Marshall (b) 12 bars (1 chorus); Donald Byrd (t) 6 bars of head; Gigi Gryce (as) 6 bars of last head
d - Wynton Kelly (p) 8-bar intro; Gigi Gryce (as) 8 bars bridge; Donald Byrd (t) 64 bars (2 choruses); Gigi Gryce (as) 64 bars (2 choruses); Jackie Paris (v) 64 bars (2 choruses) scat vocal; Wynton Kelly (p) 64 bars (2 choruses); Gigi Gryce (as) 32 bars (1 chorus) 4-bar exchanges with Taylor alternating with Byrd; Donald Byrd (t) 8 bars final bridge

The liner notes to the original issue, Columbia CL 1058 and reissues thereof incorrectly fail to indicate that Paris is present on "Early Bird." Furthermore, the notes indicate that Jackie Paris appears on "Stablemates" recorded at the September 5th session below. He does not. Paris's contributions are wordless scat vocals. Tracks a and b are performed as a medley and the second part, "Now Don't You Know" is not listed on the album. Nat Hentoff does mention this tune in his liner notes and gives "Lee Sears" as its composer. "Lee Sears" is actually Gryce's wife's maiden name and an alias that he often used when copyrighting his music.

b - Donald Byrd (t) 64 bars (2 choruses); Gigi Gryce (as) 64 bars (2 choruses); Wynton Kelly (p) 64 bars (2 choruses)

Note that Gryce and Golson arranged each other's compositions. The liner notes to the original issue, Columbia CL 1058 and reissues thereof incorrectly indicate that Jackie Paris appears on "Stablemates." He does not. Also, the liner notes do not indicate the presence of a tuba. A tuba is definitely audible. "Steppin' Out" is very close to "Quick Step," recorded in Paris (see session of October 9, 1953 above).

f - Gigi Gryce (as) 32 bars (1 chorus); Dizzy Gillespie (t) 16 bars (0.5 chorus) call and response with ensemble; Dizzy Gillespie (t) 48 bars (1.5 chorus) starting at bridge; Ray Bryant (p) 32 bars (1 chorus)

g - Dizzy Gillespie (t) 128 bars (2 choruses); Charli Persip (d) 8 bars; Charli Persip (d) 4 bars; Benny Golson (ts) 48 bars (0.75 chorus); Ray Bryant (p) 16 bars (0.25 chorus); Charli Persip (d) 16 bars bridge

h - Dizzy Gillespie (t) 36 bars (1 chorus); Ray Bryant (p) 18 bars (0.5 chorus); Dizzy Gillespie (t) 18 bars (0.5 chorus); Gigi Gryce (as) 18 bars (0.5 chorus); Ray Bryant (p) 18 bars (0.5 chorus)

On some LP issues, track g is listed as "Smoke Signals." A woodblock is heard on track e, simulating the ticking of a clock.

We had always assumed that Gryce was the arranger of track b, but recently (March 2016) discovered that Golson is, in fact, the arranger of that title. Many thanks are due Rob DuBoff of eJazzLines who provided a scan of the cover page of the arrangement clearly indicating that Golson is the arranger.

Milt Hinton's date book for June 1958, stored at Oberlin Conservatory, indicates that the bassist recorded three sessions with Gigi Gryce: June 2nd (2 P.M.), June 3rd (2 P.M.) and June 4th (10 A.M.). This source also shows a notation "Henry Hudson" for all three sessions which may refer to the recording studio. We are extremely grateful to Jeremy Smith, Special Collections Librarian at Oberlin, for providing this information.

It is not known what tracks were recorded at each session or whether one of the days may have been devoted to overdubbing.

The producer was Jack Lazare, the host of a radio show on WNEW (Milkman's Matinee), who composed "Lullaby for Milkman."

Jones plays celeste on track c. Whistle and piccolo are heard on track e, chimes on track b and clave on track f.

Gryce overdubbed parts to create a reed section on all tracks except c.

Jones plays celeste on track c. Gryce overdubbed parts on tracks a, b and f to create a reed section.

On July 1, 1958, alto saxophonist Julian 'Cannonball' Adderley recorded two takes of Gryce's composition "Minority" with a quintet including Blue Mitchell (t), Bill Evans (p), Sam Jones (b) and Philly Joe Jones (d) (Portrait of Cannonball, Riverside RLP 12-269). It is possible Gryce was present in the studio to direct the recording of his tune but there is no documentation of this.

Art Ford was the MC. This session is problematic. "Jazz on the Screen" (Library of Congress) gives the date as November 20, 1958 and lists Bill Crow, bass (a member of Mulligan's quartet at the time) and Elvin Jones, drums. Bob Weir's 1993 publication "Art Ford's Jazz Party TV & Radio Broadcasts" also gives the date as November 20 but suggests the drummer is Dave Bailey (a member of Mulligan's quartet at the time); however, in a note submitted to the IAJRC Journal, September 2014, p. 34 (Discographical Forum), Weir gives the date as November 27, 1958. The online Lord Discography assigns November 20 as the date and "poss." Vinnie Burke and Barry Miles as the bassist and drummer, respectively. Burke and Miles were local musicians associated with the Ford show. The Dugelay/Hallqvist Gerry Mulligan discography gives the date as November 27, 1958.

The CD issues erroneously list the personnel, in addition to Mulligan, as Miles Davis, trumpet; Nat Adderley, cornet; Bennie Green, trombone; Cannonball Adderley, alto sax; Red Garland, piano; Barry Miles, drums; Chris Nirobe, Candido, percussion (no guitarist or bassist is mentioned).

Based on the available information and my own listening, I am not prepared to identify the bassist (who could be Vinnie Burke or Bill Crow) and drummer (who could be Dave Bailey, Barry Miles or Elvin Jones). Hopefully, more definitive information will eventually turn up. The Dugelay/Hallqvist Mulligan discography gives the bassist as Crow and the drummer as Jones.

The recording date and location come from Milt Hinton's date book for 1959 stored at Oberlin Conservatory. We are extremely grateful to Jeremy Smith, Special Collections Librarian at Oberlin, for providing this information.

Contrary to what the liner notes say, Jimmy Cleveland credited Melba Liston with the arrangement of "We Never Kissed" (1998 interview). "Tom-Kattin'" is incorrectly attributed to Oscar Pettiford on the LP sleeve.

While unconfirmed, it is likely that Gryce was present in the studio to direct his arrangements. A woodblock is heard on track c, simulating the ticking of a clock. This session was originally meant to be issued as Emarcy MG 36160 and then as Mercury MG 20450/SR 60135 but LPs with those catalog numbers were never released.

Master numbers are as shown in the Mosaic boxed set and the 2001 Cuscuna/Ruppli Blue Note Records discography suggesting two sessions were involved. The Mosaic set gives the recording date as March 9, 1959. The Lord discography gives the date as December 1959. Gryce's presence playing tambourine on his composition is unconfirmed but implied in liner notes.

Tracks a-f were recorded on April 7, 1959 and g-m on April 8, 1959.

Photos confirm that Gryce was present in the studio for these sessions. The Rich and Roach quintets were recorded on separate channels. The first track of the session was "Liza (All the Clouds'll Roll Away)" but it was never issued and no tape survives. The original LP issue edits out the bass introduction to "Big Foot." Mercury CD 826 987-2 mislabels master and alternative takes for "Limehouse Blues" and "The Casbah." These are labeled correctly in the Mosaic boxed set. A drum duet, "Figure Eights," was released on the original LP and subsequent reissues. Its matrix no. (JB503-1) indicates it was recorded shortly after this session, probably on 4/10/59 at the end of a Buddy Rich big band session. Therefore, it is not included here. The drummers take turns comping behind soloists, generally backing members of their own band.

This is a Gryce demo LP held at the Institute of Jazz Studies (Rutgers University in Newark, NJ). The source of the disc is the estate of Willard Alexander. The recording date is unknown but probably in 1960, prior to both the New Jazz and Mercury sessions. The pianist is assumed to be Wyands but the bassist and drummer could be any of a number of musicians who worked with Gryce during this period.

Both titles on: Uptown CD: UPCD 27.64 — Doin' the Gigi (2011)

Solos:
a - Gigi Gryce (as) 32 bars (1 chorus); Richard Wyands (p) 16 bars (0.5 chorus); Richard Williams (t) 16 bars (0.5 chorus); Mickey Roker (d) 2X2-bar fills b - Gigi Gryce (as) 24 bars (2 choruses); Richard Wyands (p) 8 bars; Mickey Roker (d) 4 bars

The exact recording date is unknown. The identities of the bassist and drummer shown are likely but unconfirmed. These tracks were recorded for issue on Gryce's label, Gigi Records, but it appears that never happened; however, the existence of two one-sided demo 45-RPM lacquer discs with these titles is confirmed and these discs are the source for the Uptown CD issue. Track b is not the "Strange Feelin'" recorded on June 7, 1960 for the New Jazz label.

This is a Boris Rose recording. The personnel come from recollections of drummer Mickey Roker. Reggie Workman might be the bassist but this seems unlikely since he was playing with John Coltrane at this time. The timings shown do not include announcements or applause. The issued timings are: track a - 11:25; b - 4:40; c - 7:37; d - 5:35.

All titles unissued.

This is a Boris Rose recording. The pianist is very probably Richard Wyands, but the bassist and drummer are unknown. These titles have not been auditioned.

Thanks to James Accardi, track a, previously designated as unidentified, can now be listed as "Blues in Bloom." Accardi communicates (email, Sept. 6, 2018) that he has examined an irreparably damaged Boris Rose lacquer disc, one side of which is Gigi Gryce at Birdland, September 30, 1961. According to the record jacket, the first title is "Blues In Bloom." The musicians listed are Gigi Gryce, Eddie Costa, and Richard Williams, but no information on the identities of the rhythm section is provided.
